FORTLAND, PRIDAY, MAY 6, 1887, THE O. & C. CONNECTION.

The newspapers and many of the business men of San Francisco are deleding themselves with the hope that when the Oregon & Califorhia confection is made. this whole western coun try will again become tributary to San Francisco Among other flattering assumptions it is taken for granted that San Francisco will be the actual terminus of the Northern Pacific and Union Pacific systems; that their through business will begin and end in that citr, passing by Portland, Seattle and Tacoma as mere way stations, and that the job ing trade of Oregon, Washington and Idaho will go there as a did pairs ago. This, the Engineer concludes, must "come about in the new periods." about in the very anthre of things."

It is evident that the nature of things in this Northern country is but imperfectly understood at San Francisco. Conditions have changed since the days when the only possible approach was through San Francisco. We are now able to through San Francisco. We are now able to reach the eastern markets as easily as San Franeisco can and in as brief time; while the growth of population and lusiness there enables our jobbers to buy on count terms with San Francisco buyers. The hysiness community of Port-land is quite as "zetid" in its connections and financial ability as the business community at San Francisco. Here has been and is the sus-taining power of Portland. In most western hands of men without large choital and often without the ability that comes from sound business training. The trade organization is weak and unstable. But in Portland it has always been otherwise. Business man have controlled business here from the beginning and for twenty-five years the financial hasis has been as substatial as in New York city. We have only to name the bouses of Ladd & Tiltor, the First National Bank, Allen & Lewis, Corbett, Failing & Co., Flieschner, Meyer & Co., Corbit & Macleay—the list might be extended greatly—to illustrate the fact that the buisness organization of Portland stands upon a solid base of capital, experience and ability.

With such a business organization in harmonious relations of credit and acquaintance with the country, with established connections in the great markets, with independent routes to the East and with choice of competing thes or of the green route. Portland will be able to the situation as expressed in the Examiner is the thought that follows the wish. It is the assumption of Ignorance

If we expect less than San Francisco from he Oregon & California connection, we have assurance of more. It will give us a competing transcontinental line in the hands of a management whose policy is to build up the country through which it passes. It will bring into Orprices, must hereafter be very large. It will promote a large reciprocal business between Or-egon and California, profitable to both. San some business in the northern countles of Callformia. It is true that the Southern Pacific is a California reed and that the interests of its own. ers lie chiefly in San Francisco; but they are men of business, and will see that the de velopment of their Oregon property can be best secured with Priviland as lies terminus. They will also be bidden for Oregon through traffic over the Southern , and will not date to antagonize our Eusiness community by an aufriendly local policy. The Willamette river, too, and the narrow gauge lines will keep their eventurned this wa and, besides, the Oregon legislature will not al-low Oregon to be misused. With so many saleguards, Oregon is in no danger. She will welcome the Oregon & California connection.

THE GUILFORD MILLER CASE.

Eastern papers devote a great deal of space to esident's letter on the Guilford Miller land The Times and Herald of New York, in particular, speak of the president's act as one that brings up the Northern Pacific corporation with a round turn and gives a great victory not only to Miller, but through the principle in-volved, to the whole country. Now, though it is gratifying to find the president taking a stand n favor of settlers' right, it is necessary to hear in mind that the president's letter does not decide, as the Herald puts it, that Miller shall "seep his farm?" it does not settle the question lies behind this particular case as to the legal right of the company to make up the defi-legal right of the company to make up the defi-ciency in its grant by "indemnity lands." The questions involved are quest one of law, and must be extited by appent to the judicial power. The secretary of the interior, to whom the president's letter was addressed, cannot settle them. nor can the president himself. We hope, in-deed, that Miller will be able to keep his farm; but the president's letter will not give him title, nor will it settle the voxed question as to indem-nity lands. Miller and all others situated like him will have to depend on their least rights not on sentimental opinions; for the corpora-tion will undoubtedly assert all its legal rights, and will try to find means to enterce them. The question, then, simply is this, viz : What are the legal rights of the purties to this contendecide. His opinion attracts attention because of the position he holds, but it is of no more alus in settlement of the questions involved than that of a private citizen.

AN EXPOT ANALYSIS.

Lamar's discourse on Calhogu was a labored attempt to recost history. We team from the secretary's mation, the full text of which is now at hard, that the College play of multiflaction was a patriotic district for maintaining the being. But Mr. Lagar and not stop to explain Union. But Mr. Lamar and nat stop to explain how it happened that he and his fellow conspiration of the military constitution. ators, in 1852-61, professed to drul in this multification method of preserving the Union their own warrant for attempting to destroy it. An exceedingly close and succente statement of the spirit of Lamar's oration is given in a trief paragraph he the New York . Tribune, viz: "Under the please hand of the orator in history of national during the please hand of the orator in history of national orator in history and the slow growth of national unity appears to be in defiance of its constitution; that nullification appears a constitution strength with its rightful place 'in the politics of the land' until 'swept out of existence' by civil war and the unity and soversignty of the na-tional government are made to seem not the desired fruit of wise measures by the framers of the constitution, but the casual result of the Louisiana purchase, the admission of new states and the onequal growth of different sentions. So Mr. Calloun is represented as the loyal and heroic defender of a constitutional principle, which, though unlawfully everthrown by the force of a constitutional principle. force of avents and of war, was nevertbeld fundamental dectrine on which the union of states was established." Of Lamar's oration there could be no closer or more exact analysis.

EXPERIENCE IN MAINE.

Rev. John Snyder, a noted chergyman of St. Lonis, recently visited Maine, and after a so-journ of some period there wrote and published in the Forum the result of his observations on the prohibitory liquor law of this table. Among other thing he said that the prohibition business had become a mere political instrument for keeping the republican party in power in Maine, as in Kansas and Iown; that nobory in politics was sincere in apporting prohibition, but that salconkeepers who were not prosecuted and druggists whose business had become that of bar-room, united to support the politicines o advocated prohibilion but did not under-

There is not a mine in America or Europe; not a railroad in America or Europe; not a steamship line in America or Europe; not a life-saving station in America or Europe; not a city in America or Europe, that has not illustrated in its history the capacity of human nature promptly to do and dare and die, as Samuel Hudson, miner, died at Nonamo. And these deeds are done as modestly, as instinctively, as frequently as they were in the days of the civil war when thousands on both sides faced each other in a hattle whose issue, whether victory or defeat, put not a cart into any soldier's pocket; when victory stood for no more booty or beauty then defeat. And since this is so; since our take to enforce it.

To this Neal Dow soon made a reply, alleging that Mr. Snyder was "probably in the pay of the liquer leagues," but admitting before he got through that the statements made by Mr. Snyder capable of heroic action and chivalric conductive rubstantially correct. Thus, said Real why do writers like Howells persist Dow, "The condition of things in Portland is picturing us as a people whose aver Snyder ended by confirming him. To the Softer ended by contribute film. At the case charge that he was "probably in the pay of the liquor leagues." Mr. Snyder answered: "If any honest minister reveals the workings of the probably in the pay of the liquor leagues, and while this is not quite as effective as shooting him through the head (as the saloon keeper did

A HERO VOR HOWELLS.

The horrible disaster at Nanaimo had its here. Samuel Rudson, miner, lost his life trying to rescue his comtades from their frightful grave.

One of the hopeful eigns of the times is that no diraster, great or small, takes place that does not have its simple hero; some plain man, who without having ever read of heroism or chivalry, ensity rises to the level of heroism and chivalry

when some dread hour suddenly comes and calls for a man. Last March there was a hotel harmed at luffalo, N. Y., and the dispatches announced that "Henry D. Rumsey lost his life by going tack to rescue the little daughter of Mrs.

Rumsey once kept the Cozzens bouse, his old clerk said: "Mr. Bunnsey was a man who com-pelled the admiration of mankind. Kind and gentle as a woman, he was ever active and instances; they are common all over our great country; all over the civilized world. There is never a great calamity falls like night at noon-day upon the world but some gallant fallow, one of Plutarch's mee, rises instantly to the level of self-sacrifice. It is, an attribute of human na-

Wherever you find a nuce that has risen above the fishes and reptiles in sensibility, you find this capacity to venture all for somebody beyond self. It is this capacity to rise to the heroic level of self-sacrifice that distinguishes

This contempt for death, this dating life and love and youth for the state, for your friend or even for those who are not friends but simply fellow countrymen, is one of the primitive titles of the noblity of human nature that has survived culture and changes of clime and time, and religion and forms of government, as completely as the primitive love of the mother for the child is as powerful and as passionate to-day as when Andromache hung fonely over Asyyanax and praced that flector might return undurt to her kisses and his child.

And jet the American admirers of the sosalled creater of a new school of fiction, Mr. Howells, would have us believe that there never was a here is history who was not a mankac, a familie or an enemeration of modelal vanity and soff-esteem, dance the deviction order to be taked of at the cities of the street; that there

Be thanks the board of trade committee for its "co-operation," but thinks that they should "understand and appre-ciate the fact there are many reasons why the details of an expenditure of three-quarters of a miltion dollars cannot be arranged in a moment." Mr. Smith should remember that it is nearly five pears since our city council vacated streets and gave property worth a quarter of a million dollars to the Terminal Company. Our business community is seriously embarrassed at delay in the delivery of goods, and it was entirely in order to riso up and ask what was being or to be done. Messre McCraken, Atnold and Hughes have done the city a service in getting so much information as is contained in Mr. Smith's message. It is gratifying to know that the scheme has not been entirely forgotten.

The state fish commissioners have decided to rehabilitate the old salmon hatchery on the Clacking river, which has been turned over to the uses of the state rent free. It will cost about three thousand dollars to put the establishment in order, and an ample fund will remain to carry it through the two seasons be tween this time and the next meeting of the

CONTRACTS LET VESTERDAY BY THE FISH COM-MISSION FOR RESTORING IT.

The state board of fish commissioners, consist-ing of Messrs. F. C. Reed, E. R. Thompson and R. C. Campbell, held simeeting yesterday at Oregon City for the purpose of completing arrangements restoring the did batchery of the Oregon Washington Salmen Propagating Company, which J. W. Cook is president. It was establish which J. W. Cook is president. It was established several years ago by some enterprising Columbia river cannerymee, but was allowed to fall into decay because a few taen did not feel like putting up money for the bene it of the many, when the many would not contribute. The company has leased the property to the state for a nominal sum—$1 a year. To restore the property to make it again available for a hatchery requires that the flames be renewed, the building repaired and the dam and rucks built anow. A contract was let yester day to Joseph Pasquet for rebuilding the dam and rucks; price $1500. The remainder of the work will be done by day's Ishor and will cost, about $1500—a total of $2000. Work will begin as soon as the considerate permission of the considerate of the dam is among the rullway station. The dam is among clear creek and raises its waters fourtien feet. The water is then flumed 100 feet to the hatchery. The racks are constructed by stretching webbod wire across the river on niles and their webbod wire across the river on niles and their webbod wire across the river on niles and their webbod wire across the river on niles and their webbod wire across the river on niles and their webbod wire across the river on niles and their webbod wire across the river on niles and their webbod wire across the river on niles and their webbod wire across the river on niles and their webbod wire across the river on niles and their webbod wire across the river on niles and their webbod wire across the river on niles and their webbod wire across the river on niles and their webbod wire across the river on niles and their webbod wire across the river on niles and their we have the river on the sand their we have the river on the sand their we have the river of the construction of the rest and the rest of the sand their we have the rest of the sand their we have the rest of the sand the rest of the sand the rest of the rest of the sand The water is time named from feet to the natchery. The racks are constructed by stretching webbod wire across the river on piles, and their use is to ore the less saimon from ascending the stream. Untally the fish hegin to spawn late in August or early to September. At this senson the eggs will be taken and placed in the troughs. The young left will be kept un'il they are about four mounts old, when they will be turned loose to take their claimers.

ACCIDENTS" AT CENTRALIA, W. T.

An accident which might have proved much more serious occurred as the sh night mill it shis town to day. One of the sungloyes named Marian Blankers of the sungloyes named Marian Blankers of the sungle from Texas, was entrying a sungle of the changer but whilst pleking up a single his band was caught in the saw and two fungers taken off. It was by a mere obance that the whole of its left shoulder was not badly mutilated. He was taken to Dr. Snith, who deessed the wounded hand, but he says he feels a great deal of pain in the whole arm.

The previous evening Chris Steiger, one of the proprieture, had he shand crossled, which though not dangerous, was very painful.

A S1,400 House and Lot for $200.

The Award of Houses and lots to be made at the New Larket Theater June 13, 1887, regardless of whether another Lot s sold or not in Monthly Payments of $15 Each, without Interest.

This beautiful tract of land, consisting of 25 lots, is situated in the famous fruit growing district adjoining East Portla id, one-half infle east of the city limits, on the extensively traveled Rase Line road, also on he main line of the Mount Tabor & East Portland railway, and only five minutes ride from the Morrison-street bridge. This land is all level, cleared and in a high state of cultivation, with fruits and ber rice, such as apples, plusus, pranse, cherries, peaches, pears, etc., together with strawberries, blackberries, and, in fact, all the fruits and ber rice for which this favored exciton is noted. Situated as it is, away from the maintaid district, it is enlirely free from all missuatic initiances, and is destined to secone, with the rapidly increasing population of the two clines, what Berkoley and Alameda are to san Francisco—a place of beautiful fomes.

PARADISE SPRING LARM

lote. I uder this arrangement six but of the JS subscribers will secure a handsome house and lot, worth $1400 each, for the small sum of $00, while the balance will have lots that can not be purchased anywhere in the same locality for less than $300 each, and then only in acretracts—a fact that procludes the possibility of purchase at all by men of limited means. The award of the bouses is to be made under the amperium of a committee of responsible and disinterested citizens, at some public hall to be agreed upon, in Portland, in June 1837. Part es at a distance can purchase under this plan of award as well as those in be city, it be ing specifically agreed on our part that every thing is to be just as represented.

Remittances can be made to us by mail or express

METHOD OF SALE

MLTHOD QL SAII

These bouses, etx in number, together with the orchards and other intercovenients, are to remain on the lots where they are at present sain ated, and are included in he price paid for the lote ($200 each), to those who draw the fortunate numbers.

In order that all buyers may have an equal chance on the drawing be following plan of award will be adopted. The name of each subscriber will be placed on one slip of paper and a number of each lot, from 1 to 208, will be placed on another slip. he two slips will be placed on separate boxes, and under the supervision of responsible and dismitarested clizens will be drawn simultaneously. The number drawn will designate the lot belonging to the subscriber whose name accompanies it. Under this plan the names as well as the numbers will be placed in the separate boxes promiscuously, thereby removing any possible advantage that one subscriber might have over another.

The plats on file is our files, as well as a visit to the premises, will show on which lots the houses are located, but no one can tell who will receive the winning numbers until they have been drawn billighteded from the box.

Each and every subscriber will receive a war ranly deed to his lot, without any extra charge whatever

Remember that there are as a elegant, modern design dwellings to be given away with these lots. Price, $200 each one-fourth down and the balance in insuline its of $10 a month, without interest.

On and after May 1 we will have an elegant four herse conveyance on hand to convey p os pective purchasers to and from the prefixes free of charge.

In order to accommediate those who cannot call during the day, our sides will be open every can be a series of the start of the side of the start of the side of the side of the side of the side of the prefixes free of charge.

NOTES THOM COUDENDAIL

A dispatch dated Arlington in The Darkon Land May 1 of May 2 stated that the fire at Bickelton started Friday Bight in Bickelt butter which is no connect. The lire started in Mr. S. Flower's dwelling house Friday noon. The origin of the fire is not known but it broke out in the kitchen. Joe Teal of Portland passed through to day en route for Bickelton. We had a snow storm Sunday morning. The weather is cool yet grain looks well grass is growing and stock is improving.
